
Saved three-config comparison. Means first average configurations within each model.
Scene counts and query settings differ; no cross-method scene-paired inference is made.